MY PAYMENT NETWORK ADDS ELECTRONIC PAYMENTS VETERAN TO BOARD

Expertise Invaluable To Corporate Development

CORTE MADERA, Calif. – February 6, 2007 – My Payment Network, Inc. today announced that Mr. Ed Braswell will join the My Payment Network Board of Directors. Mr. Braswell, President of Link2Gov (a Metavante Company), a leader in electronic payment for government organizations, brings electronic payments industry expertise and a deep understanding of the government sector.

As President of Link2Gov, Mr. Braswell is responsible for the company's strategic direction. His corporate experience also includes serving as Senior Vice President of Global Sales for Premiere Technologies (NASDAQ-PTEK) where he managed a worldwide sales organization, and executive level sales management with Centigram Communications Corp. (NASDAQ-CGRM) and ROLM, an IBM Telecommunications subsidiary.

"Ed's board involvement is exciting. He brings "seen it, done it" expertise. He's built a world-class electronic payments company and his experience with the government sector is very important to our work with the public K12 school sector. Ed's guidance is important to our corporate development and we're honored to have him on board," said David Dunaway, CEO of My Payment Network.

"I'm excited to have the opportunity to work with My Payment Network" said Mr. Braswell. "They fill a market segment that complements Link2Gov's market focus and they've positioned themselves as an early mover in their industry vertical. In addition to serving on their board, I see enormous opportunity for our companies to benefit from our teaming agreement."
